BOND ARMS
PRODUCT GUIDE

Made in Texas, by Texans.

SPECIAL OFFER INSIDE!

Originally organized under the name Texas Armory, Bond Arms was incorporated in 1995 to manufacture the award-winning Bond Arms derringer with the idea that the aged design of the Remington Model 95 over-under, single-action derringer could be converted from an Old West relic into a modern, more powerful, and better built personal defense weapon.

In this pursuit, Bond Arms created an all-new design to safely fire multiple modern calibers. The beefed-up double barrels and frames are constructed entirely from stainless steel, then shaped and finished using modern manufacturing processes, including robotics and CNC milling. This allows us to build the smallest, most powerful and best built personal protection handguns on the market. Plus, all Bond Arms derringers are made right here in Granbury, Texas by Texans.

What makes our Bond Arms hand cannons truly unique is the ability to interchange barrels and calibers quickly allowing you to be shooting .22LR one minute, and then switch to .410 shotgun shells the next minute, with just a few turns of an Allen wrench. Currently you can choose from 18 different calibers, and 36 different barrels, all of which are interchangeable with every Bond Arms pistol*.

As the product development leader in the derringer segment of the firearms industry, we also support our handguns with a complete line of custom accessories including holsters and grips.

Respected in the world of competitive shooting, Bond Arms derringers were used to secure 16 S.A.S.S. (Single Action Shooting Society) World Championships. With such praise from competition and conceal carry folks alike, it's no wonder the Bond Arms derringer has enjoyed its reputation as a serious personal protection firearm for more than 20 years.

We're one of very few manufacturers that still builds exclusively in America with American-made parts for all of our handguns. Even our grips, holsters and other accessories are made entirely, and proudly, in the U.S.A.

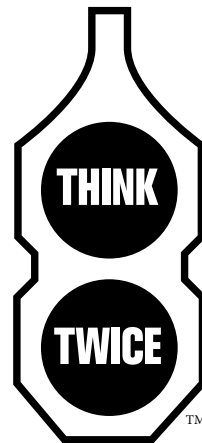

Our firm commitment to designing and manufacturing superior guns equals the commitment we have to providing the absolute best customer service in the industry. We proudly stand behind every gun we make.

What some of our customers are saying:

“I’ve been wanting a Bond Derringer for years now and decided it was time to order one. I ordered it through my local dealer, and love the quality and workmanship that goes into making such a fine gun. I also like the fact that an array of different barrels and grips are available. I personally got the Texas Defender in 45 Colt-only, and quickly after that bought a set of Texas Star Grips and a black B.A.D. driving holster. Excellent Customer Service is alive and well at Bond too.” – Chris M.

“I have I few CC pieces that work wonderfully when I dress around them. The way I carry (outside the waist band) means an extra shirt which gets pretty warm from time to time. I tried to pocket carry my j-frame but even with a pocket holster it prints and you know I have something more than keys in my pocket. So I picked up a Texas Defender and it works perfectly. Slip it into my front pocket and no one can tell due to the slim size and no bulge of a cylinder. As an added plus, it is chambered in .357 so no need to break into a new caliber yet.” – Mark K.

“I had researched this gun thoroughly before I bought it and it met all of my expectations. Very well made, shoots great and I like the ease of changing barrels. The recoil is also very manageable I will definitely buy another! – Laura T.

“I just picked up my Snake Slayer last Friday and I can’t put it down. The design of the pistol is a work of art. I have wanted one for a long time so this has been a great couple of days. This is by far my favorite gun in my collection.” – James O.

This gun is solid! Just looks and feels like high quality. The holster I ordered is perfect. I have never seen a leather holster with such quality and craftsmanship. I couldn’t be happier. This gun will provide concealed protection for years. I don’t ever see being able to ware these out. Great solid quality products.” – Lisa A.

“Perfect pocket gun. Could not believe how easy and fun this gun is to shoot!” – Danielle M.
